What are cookies?

Cookies are small text strings exchanged between a server and the web client. They are used for automatic authentication, session tracking, and storing specific information about users accessing the server.

This website uses the following types of cookies:

a) Strictly necessary cookies (Technical cookies)

Cookies that are necessary for the proper functioning of the Website and cannot be disabled in our systems. They are generally installed following actions such as service requests. You can set your browser to notify or block these cookies, although some parts of the Website may be compromised.

b) Performance cookies

Cookies that allow counting visits and traffic sources to measure and improve the Website performances. These files also help to identify which pages are the most and least visited and see how visitors navigate around the Website. Not consenting to these cookies prevents monitoring how often the Website is visited and, consequently, its performance.

c) Functionality cookies

Cookies that enable the Website to provide enhanced functionality and personalization. They may be installed on your device directly or by third-party providers offering services on our pages. Not consenting to these cookies may compromise some or all of these services.

d) Targeting cookies (targeted advertising)

Cookies that may be installed through the Website by advertising partners. They may be used to outline user interests and display relevant ads on other sites. These cookies allow the identification of your browser and internet device. Not consenting to these cookies results in less targeted advertising.

How to manage Cookies

You can select and/or disable cookies at any time using the "Cookie Settings" feature available within the cookie banner shown to you during your first visit to the Website or subsequently shown in the bottom right-hand corner of the Website, or by following the link at the end of this cookie notice. This feature allows you to access a dedicated area called "Privacy Preferences Center" where you can selectively choose to consent or disable cookies grouped by similar categories, as well as confirm your previous choices. In this area, you can also view individual cookies installed on the Website, their characteristics, including type and duration, and any third parties providing them. The list of cookies is constantly updated.
